BOARD OF TRUSTEES

1936
CUPOLA

Dedication

O MISS COLE, whose far-sightedness and breadth of vision have guided M. V. S. through the changes of the last twelve years.

To Miss Brouse, whose sound judgment and keen sense of fitness are vital factors in the progress of M. V. S.

To Mrs. Davies, whose loving generosity has so added to the charm and graciousness of life at M. V. S.

To Miss Hill, whose astounding memory has kept alive the personalities of so many M. V. S. daughters.

To Mr. Guider, whose legal mind and business acumen are always at the service of M. V. S.

Foreword

LAST YEAR a ship appeared on the M. V. S. horizon. The Class of '36! The ship has weathered storms and come upon calm seas; through all exigencies it has been guided by the ideals of M. V. S. Now as we approach the end of this cruise and prepare to set out upon the uncertain voyage of life we want to leave behind us this record as a reminder of the days when we were active in school life and an assurance that, although winds and tides may take us to foreign ports, we will, in our hearts, always be a part of M. V. S.

Alma Mater

UR Alma Mater Glorious
With loving hearts and proud,
We crown thee all victorious
And sing thy praise aloud.
In loyalty we serve thee
And strive to heed thy call,
Mount Vernon, O Mount Vernon!
Through self to conquer all.

You give unfailing kindness
If trouble meets us here;
You foster all our pleasures
And make them seem more dear.
Nor time, nor care, nor sorrow
Can these fair days erase,
But they with each tomorrow
Help us new tasks to face.

Like breath of Spring's fresh morning
That lifts the heart to song,
When courage droops and wavers
And paths seem gray and long,
Will come thy dauntless spirit
To help us on our way.
Mount Vernon, O Mount Vernon!
Hold fast thy tender sway.

The changing years may bring us
Some longed for dream of bliss,
Yet memory will cherish
A sympathy we miss.
In hours of joy or sadness,
What'er our need may be,
Mount Vernon, O Mount Vernon!
Thy children turn to thee.

MOTTO—He who hath knowledge, steereth the ship

COLORS—Black and Gold

CLASS SONG

Words by VALERIA HARRIS

Music by ADOLF TOROVSKY

A ship appear'd upon the blue,
A ship with banners rais'd on high,
Symbol of our standards true,
In silhouette against the sky,
Combating wind and blasting gale
That send forth waves of discontent,
With gull-like, snowy full-spread sail,
It comes to port its pow'r unspent.
Our Black and Gold are colors strong,
The spirit of the class to bind.
To them we sing in loyal song,
Exultant both in heart and mind.

CLASS POEM

By EMILY DONALDSON

Now time has turned so quickly in its whirl
That soon the present, swelling in full tide,
Will break the cords that moor us to the side
Of M. V. S. Our ship must ride the swirl
Of future stormy seas. Let us unfurl
Our banner . . . black, for thirty-six, with pride
And keep, "He who hath knowledge for his guide,
Steereth the ship," the motto of each girl.
So let us sail, and let our will be strong.
And always work together as a crew.
No matter if the trip be hard or long,
Let us with courage see our journeys through,
Then turn, and anchor, with each new success
In memories and hopes to M. V. S.

Words by HELEN TOLEN

Music by ADOLF TOROVSKY

We saw a lion rampant upon a shield of blue
Came fortitude and courage to strengthen us anew
Our noble emblem striding in majesty alone
Gave us the dauntless bravery
Which we hope long to own.
This symbol will awaken the best in each girl's heart
Ideals are all perfected when each fulfills her part
"Fortes Fortuna" ever, our motto staunch shall be
O lion sign of triumph we show our victory
O class of '37 in all the future years
Our lion hearted spirit will conquer many fears
We won't forget our days here, the time that flies so fast
We'll venture forth in boldness to find success at last.
Father in Heaven
We ask Thee
Keep us loyal and true
To our class
To each other, to our colors
The gold and blue.

CLASS SONG

White Class, we'll sing to you
With voices proud and true,
Loyalty firm as the skies,
And love that never dies.
M. V. S. the White Class
When the days have passed
And we are no longer with you.

It's then we must prove
That we are true;
Dear class, just to you.
Would that we could sing,
And also tell thee in each line,
How out of joy and grief and hate
We gave our love for thine.

Life will hold many memories,
Days spent at M. V. S.
Dearest of them all,
Olden times recall.
M. V. S. the White Class
We'll always be true
To our emblem purity,
And always, yes, always,
To thee.

Class Prophecy of 1936

ON a bright spring day in the year 1956, under a cloudless sky a massive white structure topped by a golden Cupola gleams in the sun. Miss Cole and Mr. Lloyd are ensconced in chromium plated chairs on the sundeck of M. V. S.

In weak and broken voices they are discussing the various classes that have made up the history of the school.

Suddenly Miss Cole grips her chair, "Bless my soul, a ship!"

"A black ship with golden sails," Mr. Lloyd exclaims, "it must be that individual class of '36."

Miss Cole speaks into the house telephone, "Quick Zimmer, chocolate pigs and food aplenty, they were always a hungry crew."

There on the bridge is Alice Pask. She has taken a vacation from Broadway to captain the ship on its memory cruise. There is enough Coca Cola in the hold to supply M. V. S. for years. Her husband, you know, is president of the company. Next month she is opening in a revival of "Icebound" which she first played at M. V. S. twenty years ago.

Near her is Keith Price, owner of a large chain of tea rooms. M. V. S. girls now patronize these instead of Nunnally's which was so well known in '36. Also it is suspected that her special canned goods are favorites for midnight feasts.

Have you heard about the Bureau of Neatness recently established by the government? It is under the direction of Eleanor B. Lutz who has established experimental laboratories in Salisbury, North Carolina, where she divides time between neatness and her husband.

The two figures on the left are Mr. and Mrs. Chick Jackman. Mrs. Jackman (Jean Ann Cowton to you) couldn't leave her husband at home but she did leave the twins who are planning to enter M. V. S. in the fall.

Vera Howe, with a large bundle of music in one hand and a knitting bag in the other is impatiently waiting for the boat to dock. She is giving a concert at Constitution Hall tonight which the school is required to attend en masse.

Betty Gilbert, who of course is editor of a world famous sport magazine went ashore with the pilot to rush a special piece of copy to press.

Martha King, tanned by the California sun, is wearing a new creation of her own design which shocked Paris when she stopped there on her way over. It is black and gold cellophane, designed in honor of this homecoming. Martha is flying back to Hollywood tonight to start work on gowns for Virginia Turner to wear in her new picture. Jinx had a touch of temperament and will not return until next week when, under the direction of Miss Hortense Moore, she will star in her new production, "Innocent Women."

The former Valeria Harris, whose daughter, Hysteria, is making her debut Saturday night, is meeting her husband, Guy, tomorrow to return to New York. Guy is a famous scenario writer and Val has published novels every few months for the past twenty years. A large majority of them are on mysticism.

Weze Gebhard, a lonely wizened little figure, is still walking the path of life with lantern in hand. She is in search of the model husband. "Now is it Bob or is it Jack?" she cries. She is, one might say, a woman of the world.

Sue Wolff swathed in silver fox, slinks down the gang plank. Despite her lovely appearance she is president of the Women's Welfare League and is now surrounded by reporters.

Meanwhile newsreel photographers are busily photographing Mary Jane Elder, who is a prima donna on the Metropolitan Stage. She is sponsoring a baseball team in addition to her artistic careers.

At Madison Square Garden last month, Amy Hopkins annexed numerous championships. In contrast to her former appearance she now weighs three hundred and fifty and has been forced to hire professionals to show her horses for her. Tucked away in her pocket is a Survey paper which was promised to Mr. Lloyd on March 7, 1936.

Connie Thurlow, noted for her lectures on grace and poise, crashes to the main deck with a resounding bang. In connection with this she is whiling away time between husbands, organizing summer cruises for young people.

Among the other celebrities is the original and argumentative art critic, Miss Polly Trees. Her art page has created nation-wide comment.

Clad in scarlet velvet and leading two Russian Wolfhounds is Miss Jean Upson. She has changed her name to Jeanova Upsonova and has found her place as hostess at the Club Troika. There Miss Upsonova introduces Mount Vernon students to young gentlemen who merit invitations to M. V. S. functions.

Emily Donaldson, still a young "Deb" at heart and almost in appearance, as she has recently had her face lifted and is wearing a new transformation, has never married. It seems she just can't make up her mind as she still loves all the boys.

Glamorous and startling, Mrs. Phil—— nee Ruth Palmer, glamorous because of her husband and startling because of her many children is waving frantically to Mr. Lloyd.

Demure and sweet as ever is Miss Sue Calder. Her inventions to make lazy school girls lazier are famous. Among these is a switch which opens windows, turns off radios and runs baths.

Dorothy Walton, prison matron of the Brooks penal institution, has spent a full life in the betterment of mankind. Her latest book, "Lights Out," reveals startling discoveries in her field.

Suddenly all confusion ceases as on the horizon appears a battleship. On the bridge is Admiral Blick, while at the helm we see our own Carmy. Standing at attention on the forward deck, in spotless uniforms, are the little Blinks.

Here's to the Navy!

And to the pirate ship of '36.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1936

*H*EARKEN, ye dames to our presence. We, that unusual class of 1936 of M. V. S., being of unstable and troubled mind and being about to paddle from the life of this school into we know not what spheres of muddy waters, do, not according to our own free will, but according to tradition, without conscience or compunction decree to the assembled company, this our last will and testament:

- ITEM I—To Miss Cole we lovingly will a ship kept afloat by her constant support and understanding.
- ITEM II—To Miss Blakeslee we sympathetically will a leash for Dash equipped with four-wheel brakes.
- ITEM III—To Mrs. Forman we will a blimp equipped with parachute for discharging girls throughout the city.
- ITEM IV—To Miss Agnes De Lano we will a mushroom shaped button which when pressed, instills a cosmic imagination in her students.
- ITEM V—To Miss Spaulding we will "Mickey Mouse in Tap Dance Land" for study of body contortions and foot movements.
- ITEM VI—To Miss Brown we will half a dozen dummies with model M. V. S. wardrobes and appreciative faces to be sent to theaters and concerts on unused tickets.
- ITEM VII—To Mr. Gill we will Virginia Quantrell's lively footsteps.
- ITEM VIII—To Madame Peltier we will a dignified and "comme il faut" Senior Class.
- ITEM IX—To Miss Marion, the class wills their regard and best wishes.
- ITEM X—To Mrs. Lloyd, we will best wishes and all good luck for many years to come.
- ITEM XI—The Senior Class wills to Mary Lindsay the title of "Dictator of M. V. S." so she may enforce her ideas.
- ITEM XII—To Marion Tapping we bequeath a lasso with which to get back her men.
- ITEM XIII—To Gavitt and Lane the class wills a small but competent nursemaid for next year.
- ITEM XIV—To Virginia Davis, the Seniors will a never ending Hershey bar.
- ITEM XV—The Seniors leave to Betty Waddingham a stream-lined car for rapid transportation to the University of Virginia.

To various other members of the school at large we leave our personal possessions, as tokens of our never ceasing esteem and affection.

FIRST—I, Emily Donaldson, leave my enthusiasm to Hallie Fairbanks.

SECOND—I, Alice Pask, bequeath my ruddy complexion to Marguerite Field.

THIRD—I, Sue Wolff, will my poise and slender figure to Mary Elizabeth Champlin.

FOURTH—I, Valeria Harris, divide my energy between Peggy Hepburn and Laura Belle Beach.

FIFTH—I, Polly Trees, will my love and appreciation of art to Margaret Dodge.

SIXTH—I, Betty Gilbert, will my athletic ability to Patsy Fowler.

SEVENTH—I, Martha King, do bequeath my Dante chart to Betsy Butler, in view of the attention her tree of life received.

EIGHTH—I, Keith Price, will my domestic ability to Libby Washburn.

NINTH—I, Jean Ann Cowton, leave my easy conversation to Nancy Andrews.

TENTH—I, Ruth Palmer, bequest my sunny disposition to Rosemary Kopmeier.

ELEVENTH—I, Vera Howe, gladly bestow my frugal appetite upon Lois Holmes.

TWELFTH—I, Dorothy Walton, surrender my faculty of tactful leadership to Joan Phillips.

THIRTEENTH—I, Mary Jane Elder, will my voice to Evelyn Bosworth.

FOURTEENTH—I, Virginia Turner, leave my continually kindly disposition to Helen Buchsbaum.

FIFTEENTH—I, Eleanor Lutz, bestow my indifference to neatness and order to Laura Wheeler.

SIXTEENTH—I, Carmelitta Da Costa, will my natural vivacity to Libby Cox.

SEVENTEENTH—I, Jean Upson, bestow my retiring ways and modesty upon Sally Jamison.

EIGHTEENTH—I, Amy Hopkins, will my studious mind to Marjorie Wilson.

NINETEENTH—I, Ednah Louise Gebhard, leave my ability for bluffing to Laura May Ripley.

TWENTIETH—I, Connie Thurlow, will my blustery voice and actions to Gene Baker.

TWENTY-FIRST—I, Sue Calder, bequeath my sweet disposition to Mary Hull.

TO THE SCHOOL AT LARGE, we bequeath a Senior Class which fulfills all expectations.

Know ye that as time goes on we are becoming more and more decrepit; we, the Senior Class, do herewith proclaim the above as our last will and in witness thereof, we set our hands and seal, this nineteenth day of March, nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

BETTY GILBERT,
VALERIA HARRIS.

This year the Music Club has been very fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing a series of lectures on music appreciation by Miss Harriett Johnson. These lectures were given every Thursday evening in the Great Hall. Miss Johnson illustrated her subjects on the piano and with lantern slides. Her object was to familiarize us with the essentials of music and to acquaint us with the themes of some of the great symphonies so that we could listen to music more intelligently.

Little Theatre

THE DRAMATIC activities of the school are sponsored by the Little Theatre. Membership in this seminar is open to everyone in the school, Forms students as well as collegiates. There are various types of work connected with this activity so girls who are not interested in acting have the opportunity to become acquainted with the technical side of production.

Further study may be made in the "Play Production Class" which was instituted last year for those who desired to specialize in theatre work. In this class the students are given the opportunity to direct one act plays which are given at various times during the year. The casts are chosen from members of the seminar and everyone who wishes to act is given the chance to do so. All technical and backstage work is done by other members who desire that type of experience. Everyone in school is invited to attend and a small admission was charged at one time this year to raise money for a benefit.

In addition to these presentations each activity group offers some entertainment for the school and Little Theatre had the pleasure of sponsoring a lecture given by Harold Ehrensperger, author of many books on the theatre.

Four major plays are also given during the year. This year "Icebound" by Owen Davis was chosen for the Junior College Play. A play written by one of our students, Joan Phillips, entitled, "A Shepherds' Play" was presented at Christmas time. "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde was chosen and presented by the Secondary School.

During the year students had the opportunity of attending professional performances presented at the National Theatre in the city. Among these were "Victoria Regina," with Helen Hayes; "Call It a Day," "Three Wise Fools," with William Gillette; "Idiot's Delight," with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontaine, and "Porgy and Bess."

We owe thanks to Miss Hortense Moore who directs our group and who made this year a very successful one.

Icebound

In November the Junior College presented their annual play, "Icebound," by Owen Davis. The play deals with the distribution of a will and the amusing and intricate incidents which are a result. Virginia Turner, as the sole inheritor and unwelcome guest in the former Jordan house, portrays the role of a mistreated and deserving girl very competently and with an aptness which was well worthy of the applause she received. Alice Pask, as the "black sheep" of the family and suitor of Jane, captures our sympathies in the roguish role. Jean Ann Cowton and Ednah Louise Gebhard as the "greedy" Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, deserve no small word of praise. The play itself was very human, touched with pathos and humor, while each and every participant was at her best. Need more be said than that such a combination produced a worthy success?

"The Importance of Being Earnest"

The last Saturday of the winter term was marked by the Yellow and White Classes' play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," by Oscar Wilde. The play, which is described as a "trivial comedy for serious people," is a satire on the upper class in England and its customs in regard to marriage. Mistaken identity gives an intricate twist to the plot which makes the climax exceedingly interesting.

The cast and production staff both did credit to Mr. Wilde's work. Nan Jewett as John Worthing and Joyce Bonner as Cecily Cardew gave performances especially deserving high praise although it is difficult to say which roles merited the highest commendation as even the smallest parts were portrayed in a finished manner.

Governing Councils

AN IMPORTANT phase of the school life at M. V. S. is Student Government. This is accomplished through the medium of three governing councils, the Student Co-operative Government Council, the Junior College Council, and the Forms Council. The activities of these bodies are gaining in scope and importance each year.

The Student Council is made up of representatives of the different phases of school life, who report on their activities on the first Saturday of each month. It is the responsibility of the council members to see that activities in these departments run smoothly. The student members of the council receive suggestions from the faculty concerning school matters which they in turn carry to the student body. At these meetings the monthly calendar is read and all matters are discussed openly and freely.

The members of the Junior College Council deal with the conduct of the students within the college. This year we have had so many more privileges granted us that we have had more added responsibilities. Each member of the council is responsible to see that the rules are kept and are free to make constructive suggestions at all times. Problems that arise in the college are brought before this council to be discussed openly. A general meeting is held every third Saturday in the month.

The Forms Council meets every Saturday morning to discuss the management and actions of the Secondary School. Each member of the Council is assigned a special department of the school life, and it is her duty to supervise the activities which come under that head.

Village Council

The idea of the M.V.S. Village was launched last year with the purpose of bringing about a closer co-operation between the various events and activities, to provide for the social life of the school and to give the student body the opportunity to plan the social life of the school.

The Village Council is the advisory and executive body in which student opinion is expressed and student and faculty view points discussed. It is composed of:

Privilege List Committee

This year a new system has been established by which the Privilege List Committee only meets four times during the school term, instead of every month as had been the previous custom. In these meetings we receive from the faculty, names of students whose academic work is of such quality as to merit them further privileges. From the Faculty recommendations the committee determines the Privilege List for the following term.

Our Ship's Log

- APRIL 18: Well the Council has returned to its individual and respective homes. We hate to see them go but maybe we won't miss them so much if we do all the things scheduled for us on the calendar. We've just come upstairs from peeking at the Optima banquet. It must be wonderful to be among the select few.
- APRIL 26: The Senior Tea was this afternoon. Field House looked lovely, decorated with their class flower, the Talisman rose. And wasn't the tea marvelous?
- MAY 2: I'm almost dead. Why is there the understanding that everything that happens on the seas must be recorded! We just came up from the Junior-Senior Banquet. Everything was all ships, of course. Mr. Lloyd thought that Texas was a dry state, but Jinx fooled him. For that matter we all helped in dampening the scene, but then we are so accustomed to having salt water around us. The Seniors crashed through in their usual marvelous style and added a note of gaiety to the occasion. Their song to the tune of "A Tavern in the Town," was wonderful.
- MAY 16: Can Miss Jean throw a baseball! Yes, we played ball as well as wading in Rock Creek, on our Junior Picnic.
- MAY 25: Alumnae are here again. Isn't it funny to realize that in a few more days the Seniors will be alumnae, and we'll be Seniors! Anyway we made the Daisy Chain at lunch time and then all rushed to the Shelter.
- MAY 27: The Fourth Form graduated this morning. I wonder how many of them will be daring enough to return as Juniors; we are planning to make someone's life miserable on Fag Day next year, wonder who it will be.
- MAY 29: Then Seniors are graduated and here I am riding away on the train. A landlubber for the summer! Goodbye, see you in the fall.
- SEPT. 30: Hello! Ship ahoy! We're back. And to help us get started Kay Rockhill drove down with Alice and is hard at work as Mr. Lloyd's assistant in getting us all settled and used to our responsibility. A thrilling meeting with Miss Cole in Great Hall. We looked at Juniors pictures and talked about the course ahead of us.
- OCT. 1: Juniors! Lots of Juniors. As many Juniors as last year. We are getting Gertrude Steinish in our excitement.
- OCT. 2: A separate entry is due Great Hall. Mrs. Hutton has played the part of the most wonderful fairy god-mother and redecorated it entirely.
- OCT. 12: Senior Housewarming! Come aboard our Good Ship. Tonight I felt like a real Senior, a rather ill one to be sure.
- OCT. 16: Heigh ho, up at 6 a. m. to give Juniors tests. Then ended up by having a party in Senior Room. Somehow felt very old and wise today.
- OCT. 18: But these Juniors have talent! Their vaudeville really warrants Major Bowes' personal attention.
- Nov. 2: The Faculty asked us ashore for their annual Hallowe'en party. Despite getting my hair quite wet while bobbing for apples (someone pushed, rudely, from behind) I had a marvelous time and could find no one who didn't agree with me as to the party being the best one yet.

- Nov. 5: Founder's Day! A lovely custom and one for which we all hope to return for many years. (Zimmer's cake is one of the most remarkable aspects of the celebration.)
- Nov. 8: Off to Mrs. Hutton's. Some of our crew took shore leave and Dr. Kaiser co-operated by dismissing Survey.
- Nov. 10: Back aboard and feeling a bit like Cinderella, I'll admit. Of course our very good friends, the faculty, are giving tests this week. Nice idea.
- Nov. 12: The Juniors elected their officers today. Betsy is president, Domini vice-president, and Annette and Gertrude secretary and treasurer. Congratulations, Juniors, with such leaders you ought to do great things.
- Nov. 20: Mid-semester! We work and we cross days off the calendar, otherwise the kittens are leading a quiet life.
- Nov. 28: Thanksgiving and the hockey game. The Yellows worked up their appetites for dinner by defeating the Whites, 5-0.
- DEC. 3: Great industry awakens! The Seniors have picked their essay topics and the Juniors are hard at work on their exercises by "Sylvia."
- DEC. 13: Friday the 13th isn't unlucky this month, a week from today we put ashore for a long leave and we're homeward bound.
- DEC. 20: Good-bye! Merry Christmas!

1936

- JAN. 8: Happy New Year! What, the whole lower floor of the school has been re-decorated. A lovely Christmas present indeed!
- JAN. 10: We aren't sure how kittens are going to like a dog but Mama Kat assures us that Py has no aversion to felines. Off to the Library!
- JAN. 18: Well, the Juniors won the first ingenuity contest, but we won the second. Now for the third!
- FEB. 1: We can't sing our song to the Juniors to tell them how much we know about various things, because they've gone and won the third ingenuity contest! When do we see those famous colors?
- FEB. 3: Started a new course tonight. Mr. Grunewald teaches it, Journalism, of course. I only hope he doesn't peer into our ship's log because it may be a record of our doings but I doubt if it's art.
- FEB. 5: Isn't it going to be marvelous when we get that new Hockey Field? The temperature is rising!
- FEB. 10: Skytop was marvelous! Why don't they dismiss school for a week and all of us take a vacation up there? Of course for those sissies who prefer the milder climes we might inaugurate a week on the Florida beaches.
- FEB. 18: The class bride of '35 will probably be Mary Jo Beattie. She announced her engagement the other day, fancy that.
- FEB. 29: The Forms are having their prom and tea dance today and we went out. Toby's for dinner and then to the movies. More fun!
- MARCH 5: Hard at work. Must get caught up before the Tea Dance and the holidays. Three weeks from tomorrow we leave for home.
- MARCH 7: The Tea Dance! Gentlemen from far and near to our rescue. There were rumors that a large time was had during the evening.
- MARCH 13: The exclusive Optima Club held its first initiation and augmented its number by four candidates.
- MARCH 20: A fashion show at Field House completely depleted our already thin pocketbooks but the clothes were perfectly gorgeous and when it comes to clothes and dieting we haven't so much will-power.
- MARCH 27: And we're off for home! Goodbye CUPOLA, we must continue through the next term without your companionship but we'll be seeing you again before the Class of '36 embarks on its next voyage.

SENIOR HOUSE-WARMING

THE first social event for which our ship dropped anchor was Senior Housewarming. The receiving line was formed in Senior Room, in the hall Mrs. Baylis and Mrs. Forman presided over the punch bowl and in each room two hostesses waited to greet their guests. The rooms were festively adorned for the occasion, soft lighting, flowers and a very neat atmosphere combining to make them most attractive. After several hours of wandering about and getting acquainted with each other even more thoroughly than there had been chance for before, the guests went ashore and our ship weighed anchor and was off for the next port.

FAG DAY

The run lasted but two days, however, for fearing head winds we put in to port to give our ship a thorough overhauling. Up at 5:00 or maybe it was 6:00 in the morning and marshalling Juniors down to the hold, was the order of the day. After much pencil chewing and many piteous glances, the unfortunate Candidates were released but not until their hopes of going out that afternoon had been properly squelched. All day they fretted and worried lest one of their superiors appear and ask them the fatal question: "What are the aims?"

When evening came, the sea was calm and the entire party went on deck for light refreshment but not until after each of the Candidates had openly avowed her intentions, ambitions and aims, to her superiors, The Seniors.

JUNIOR-SENIOR INGENUITY CONTEST

So, having cruised about and gotten our ship in good order and having become quite certain of our ability to handle her in any emergency, we ventured to embark upon a race, the annual classic, Ingenuity Contest.

On the first lap we encountered difficulty and went down in defeat to the Junior Class. In the usual manner we were closeted in a room while the Juniors presented their act for the enjoyment of the school. The problem this year was to present tableaux, pantomimes, dances, etc., inspired by certain pieces of poetry which the faculty committee had selected for us. The poems included everything from "The Highwayman" to the "King's Breakfast." We did not see the Junior's performance but reports of others assure us that the contest was fairly won.

On the next lap, we trimmed down closely and sailed for all we were worth. A one-act play was a problem! With Valeria's writing skill, Connie's direction, the adeptness of some of the crew at portraying the insane and much good and bad advice from various committees, we rounded the second mark ahead of the opposing class.

The last pull to the home buoy! Was our good ship nervous? For days we struggled over songs, sometimes we would hardly speak but still we sang. The fatal evening came but again the Juniors had nosed in ahead of us. Congratulations! So we say, "Youth will be served."

JUNIOR PRESENTATION OF COLORS

The next port of call was made in February and was at the express invitation of the Junior Class. It seems that they had something to show us and didn't realize that our trusty wireless had already picked up the news.

This particular night at dinner time we noted a dearth of Juniors in Great Hall. Where were they? After waiting a few minutes more the sound of music came to us and the Class of 1937 marched into the room behind their banner, singing their class song. The various members of the class generously parted with their corsages in which the class flower, the Iris figured prominently, and the crew of our good ship was honored to wear the flowers to dinner. With our Junior escorts we sat at special tables where the class rings were awaiting their new owners. Somehow the scene conjured up pictures of the end of the year and the sad time when our ship must sail to uncharted waters and leave behind it the friendly lion.

Enjoy Skytop at All Seasons

Although Mount Vernon has enjoyed three Winter Sports Home Parties of skiing, skating and tobogganning, there are other active seasons at Skytop. There's golf, tennis, dancing, Skyrackets (the club review), a water carnival, and everything you can want to do.

Reservations may be made direct from
